

inquiring about the spreading rams, to-day. Frank went down town to-night and telephoned Archie and he said he would be down with another man either to-morrow or Wednesday. Cloudy & cold east wind.

Tuesday November 4th

Frank and I put the rams over in the colony yard this morning and trimmed up the lambs. Dad took the pick out of pickle and made fresh as he was afraid the first wasn't strong enough. He used a preserved egg to test the strength of it and is afraid that it floated in a weaker solution than a fresh one would have. About the time we finished the sheep it began to rain and kept it up till after dinner. I haven't done much all day except with my side of the debate for the J. F. O. Frank has been working out in the barn tearing up the old place and sifting the leaf sleight. Iron Walker was in for a while.

Wednesday November 5th

Dad has been plowing all day and Frank and I finished pulling the mangolds and got part of them piled and covered and part just covered with leaves to protect them from the frost till we can haul them in. Archie, Mr. Ewen and Mr. Baily from Oak Park Farm, Pa. were down to look at the rams this afternoon. Mr. Baily bought two which he thought were the best but we could only get 40.00 apiece out of them and Mr. Ewen didn't give us much hope of selling the rest although he said Mr. Burtch wanted some. We were rather disappointed about it. This was Aunt Alice's birthday and Erub and Sid went down and I sent her a dozen eggs. Charlie Blake was in to invite Frank and me down to a party at his place to-night. Frank went down but I went down town. Cloudy & cold wind.

Thursday November 6th

Dad plowed all day and got on very well. I was getting ready to haul in the mangolds this morning and Frank was down getting nails to make sheep crates, when Chris Trauberry came over and told Erub there was a long distance call put in at his mother's for her, she went over but found it was for me from Aunt Fred.
