

about 5 miles here on through Solana Beach, Cardiff, Encinitas to Carlsbad, at the Twin Inns here they advertise Chicken dinners and have <sup>wooden</sup> chickens at the front for advertisement and from there to Oceanside then on to San Juan Capistrano where the old mission is all the way so far not very interesting, mostly grazing land. the road part of the time along the ocean and part of the time over the hills, at San Juan Capistrano we eat our lunch, some oranges grow here and also walnuts, weather

warmer here as we go inland from here. next place of any importance was Irvine. seems to be a new section. thousands of acres of young orange groves next placeustin. more oranges here. then Santa Anna. a real live looking city with street cars. next stop was Orange a smaller place then Anaheim. a great Walnut & Orange Belt around these places. visited these places seven years ago and would not know them now they have grown so much. next place was Fullerton still in the fruit belt. the
