

May 31st 1892.

Tue. 31. Extremely hot day. Thermometer 80, scarcely any wind

Wed

June 1. 1892.

Wed. 1.

Still hotter than yesterday Thermometer 88° in the shade

Thur. 2.

Very hot during the forenoon heavy thunder storms passing north, turning cooler at night a light rain fall at night

Fri. 3.

Quite cool today, partly cloudy appearance of rain to night wind quite strong from the east.

Sat. 4.

Raining all day long, feeling very tired to night, and also quite lonesome, have just finished looking the milk. Time 10⁴⁵ P.M. must mend my pants up for Monday's use, went to bed at 12 O'clock P.M.

Sun. 5.

June 5th 1892

Raining during most of the forenoon, clearing off, but very close and warm. Commenced raining at 8 O'clock P.M. with the apparance of an all night rain.
Not feeling in very good spirits today, remained in factory all day, slept from 3 O'clock until 7 O'clock P.M. a thing I have not done since the long forgotten past. Took some coffee in my little pail on Mrs Hays's, and steeped it on her stove, had a long talk with Abner and her husband came over here and enjoyed the coffee and prepared for bed, after writing the above account of the days preceding.
I am feeling quite blue and lonesome to night, Love not here as expected
