Prophylaxis of Complications in Mumps.

Whenever there is danger of metastasis from mumps, either to the mammary glands or to the testicles, apply a hot mustard poultice over the parotid gland and put the patient to bed for a few hours. The inflammation will be attracted to its original site and there remain, and will abate with proper treatment.

Weather

It rained a little <sup>temp.</sup> this afternoon
A very warm day & afternoon thawed sledging nearly all gone. John was over to the leaves this afternoon. Coelin was over this afternoon & for tea Mr. Loos came over this evening
It. One of the valentine triplets the one with the notch in her ear had two lambs this morning & they are dandies.
Mella is a little better. I wrote a letter to Aunty Peple
