

Monday June 19th

This morning all the men Daddy had asked come and help finish the moving turned up. Bill Donald, Frank Upse and Charlie Butler all turned up early. Then Gilbert himself came and got every body started to work and the Bruce and his boy Fred George came. Staly could not come today as he had promised Mr. Hobbes to go trout fishing.

We got the stable all moved and leveled about noon.

After dinner we started in at the old house and got it in place behind the wood shed about four or five. Then we moved the pig house back the length of its self into the orchard. There were "Thousands and thousands of rats" under this building and quite a fraction of them were executed. It was in an awful state underneath. We got all through about six o'clock. After tea we loaded Gilbert's stuff on his wagon and started him for Neys's where he is going to move another barn to-morrow.

Ray got off this morning and we all hurried for fear he would miss the train, but him and he said our clock was five minutes fast and would not start till the last minute, but was in time.

Bob Law brought three loads of sand today.

It has been pretty hot and sunny.

Tuesday June 20th

It is just one month ago to-night that we slept over here for the first time. Things look a lot different than they did then but have to change a lot more before they look at all decent.

Before we finished breakfast this morning Bill Donald came to see if Dad wanted a ride over to Neys's. So Daddy and Bill both went over to give them a hand with the building moving.
