

Saturday February 13th

Huby and Lile came over this morning and have been here all day. Huby & Frank cutting wood most of the time. This morning Dad, Lile and I went up and got another load of gravel. Yesterday's thaw made the roads pretty slippery and in some places the snow was nearly all gone, we had no trouble getting home with our load however, although Preston's hill was pretty bad in spots. As Frank wanted to make a trip to the gravel pit and Dad went up with the load this afternoon. They wanted to put it off way up at Sam's corner but when they crossed the ditch the hubs got stuck and they had to throw the load of where it was, on beach the team as Harry fell down and pull the sleighs out with the Cham. Huby helped me put the netting on the chicken house windows this afternoon and then Enah, Liddams and I drove down town. Enah took down seven dozen eggs and got 25¢ for them. We saw Dick down town and while Enah was shopping he, Liddams and I had a great drive around town which apparently delighted Sid to the ut most. It rained this morning and hasn't frozen all day but the wind is much colder.

Sunday February 14th

I just watered the horses and fed the chickens this morning and then got ready and went down to Sunday school with Frank.

Hagen started back a few weeks ago so I thought I would keep him company. I went around and called for him. He invited me over to dinner so I went after church, Hagen, Dave & Booz were keepin' & hatch to-day. and Hagen did the cooking. We had a chicken which was mighty good. I was over there all the afternoon and didn't get home till after five. Just as I was coming over the bridge. Dad over took me with the team, sleighs and all the family they had been out at the Shands and had come around by town to get Aunty's and Aunty Alice's luggage as they are going to stay over here for awhile. So night we all listened to Aunty read "Little Lord Fauntleroy." Very mild and Spring like all day with quite a heavy shower of rain after dinner.

Monday February 15th

I happened to get up early this morning and while poking around heard a sheep blat. I lit the lantern and went out and saw the ewe which as been sick all week now looked very much like lambing so I called Dad and sure enough before long there was a lamb and before breakfast another and soon after a third but it was dead. Dad has been running back and forth to the barn all day with first one and then the other to keep them warm and also to feed them as the ewe so far has hardly any milk for them, but to night they look fairly comfortable.
