

collar and shirt and hid back again. Nuff had informed me that as I was president of the J. F. D. A I would be expected to make a reply to the toast to Agriculture, this news rather took my breath away so I had no idea what to say and had to put in the remainder of the afternoon thinking up something foolish to say. Crub came down to the banquet with Frank and sit went off in fine shape. Mr. Johnson was Chairman and Messers. Barwell, Ben, Jack Martin proposed toasts to Our Country, The Ladies and Agriculture, respectively and I got my speech off with out fainting and different ones said it was all right. The dance started about five o'clock and kept up all night. It was well sprinkled with square dances and the orchestra consisted of Harry Moon, Tom Schram & Mrs. Frank Hocomb. Crub and I stayed till about two o'clock and then came home and wished we had come before. Very cold but sunny.

Saturday February 2nd

I didn't get up very early this morning and have done nothing but chores all morning. Frank got home about noon, he had stayed at the hall all night.

and helped clear things up after the dance, so he didn't go to bed at all. Dad. and I split up the big cakes of ice by sawing them half way through with the cross cut saw and splitting them with the sledge. This afternoon Frank and I drove down town with Belle & Lucen. We went around by the mill and got some flour & hog feed and got Jack Martin's log rack on our way back to ship the logs in on Monday. We all went to bed early to night. It has been sunny all day but is still down around zero.

Sunday February 3rd

We didn't get up in time to get to church this morning, but I took Elva's cream down this morning and told Rev. Alice to wait for Dad. to drive her over. As it was quite stormy Dad. drove over to Gupper's this morning in the bob sledge to borrow his scales and hog crate as he was afraid the road would be too drifted by to narrow. When he got home he drove down and got Rev. Alice and Mary, whom I brought down from Church and who came over here to dinner with us. Frank drove us all back down town about four o'clock. Crub went down with us as she wanted to practice a duet with Elva to play at the church concert on Tuesday night.
