218 TO COME

Geriatric Aphorisms—No. 13.

The pulse at the two wrists may differ in force and hardness and beats may be lost in transmission.

Neither pulse, pain nor temperature is a reliable guide in determining the diagnosis in the aged.—Nascher; Amer. Med.

Weather

Very hot rained several times. John drew a load of gravel, this after noon, & drew the milk this morning, by Estrander, took the child to his home to day. Mr Herbert was here for some cabbage plants. Melba took Maudie & went for her.

Melba & I have been papering
the rest of the parlor bed room
