

Aunt Alice and Dick down town this morning in the hok sleighs and came home by the mill and got some chops. Aunt Alice had to go down to the dentist's and stayed down to dinner. This afternoon Dad & I drove out to Mrs. Waddell's funeral, he was a bearer so I drove up to the cemetery to bring him home. We didn't know when we started but we had to go up to St. John's. Dad & I both got our feet pretty cold. We came home around big town and brought Aunt Alice home. She got five new false teeth.

Sunday January 3rd

We were too late this morning for Aunt or Frank to get to Sunday school although it was Aunt's birthday but I drove Enah, Aunt & Frank down to church in the hok sleighs and drove down again to bring them home. Winnie & Lila came over to dinner. This afternoon Frank, Lila & I went back to the gully to try the toboggan that Jerry & Frank made yesterday out of a cheese box. It worked fine and went over the drifts beautifully. I lay down on it once to go down and when I came to the bottom of the hill it stopped and I slid ahead and banged my head. Dick and Jerry didn't get up till noon and after dinner went down town. It has been a beautifully bright day with not a breath of wind. Rather cold this morning but milder to night.

Monday January 4th

Frank stayed home from school today to see the last of the hogs. It took us quite awhile to get the wagon box rigged to hold them, but with plank and stakes managed to make a satisfactory rack. We had no trouble in loading them as the whole seven ran right in to rest in the fresh oat straw which was in the bottom, but they were very troublesome to un-load. Neil weighed them, Dad hoped Ed. would be there but he was up town electioneering but I guess Neil gave him good weight. They just weighed 1250 lbs and as the price has gone up to $7.40 per cwt. Dad got a little over $9200 out of them. We came around by Hubbs on our way home and got a load of shingles for kindling. We boys and Pa. stored them away down there in the wood shed when they shingled the house. Hammond was in this morning to urge Dad. to go out and vote for him this afternoon and take old Jonas with him so he did drive out to Wiggins'. He took Enah and Lid dums as far as the stands and left them while he & Jonas went on out to vote. Tom came back with the car while he was gone and said if he thought Dad. would vote for Hammond hid quit hauling his cream. Frank and I did chores and unloaded the shingles. The two Miss Hardings came over this afternoon but no body was home as Aunt & Aunt Alice went down to Hubbs before dinner and are
