

Sept-28th - Fair Day. Rained in the night and early Friday this morning. Still looks wakening at 10 a.m.
Finished reading "The Ways of Laughter" by Harold Begbie. Studied. Wrote to Dorothy + Gwen Gauley. Charles went to the Fair in the afternoon. Mr. Caldwell called <sup>later</sup> to ask me to go for a drive but feeling no good so did not go. Mr. W. H. Brown also came in when passing. Charles + I spent evening reading.

Sept: 29th - Quite Cool. Charles went to the office at 7 a.m.
Saturday and from there to Owen Sound. Got back at 1 p.m. I put buttons in Charles' shirt and finished reading "The Old Regime in Canada" by Francis Parkman. Went for a walk down McGaw to Long, called at Mrs.
Beattie's and she came home with me.
Charles went to meet Adelaide at the late train. I saw I have late. Made tea for Adelaide and got her a lunch. (She drove her mother up to London + then came in here for a few days, arranged to stop for me.
