125 TO COME

The Primal Necessity,

in cases of acute anemia from traumatic causes, is a regenesis of the blood. While, in many instances, an increase in the volume of the circulating fluid is essential, the good results following saline infusion are increased and accentuated by the prompt and regular administration of Pepto-Mangan (Gude), which augments the corpuscular integrity of the blood and materially increases its hemoglobin percentage.
