

Felt rather unwell. This forenoon, rd, did not go to the woods with Fred.
Had other work to do however.

This afternoon
went out through
and have continued to cut
wood as usual.

There is some appearance of an East snow
storm again.

One storm seems to follow another
in quick succe-
sion this winter.
But, no doubt
it will help to do things in an early spring.

Fred and I worked this forenoon in the woods, he has got up a couple of loads of wood as well.

This afternoon he has been getting up wood as usual.

Look Maggie and my mother and a hired for lime on at about four o'clock, intending to go to the M. C. Phares's wedding at my mother's. I heard on the way that on account of her illness it would be postponed so we came home.
