Relative Freedom From Infection,

during the prevalence of Typhoid, Grippe, Malaria, etc., depends upon the physiologic resistance of the tissues, which, in turn, is largely dependent upon hematic sufficiency. Pepto-Mangan (Gude), by its reconstituent properties, establishes a blood supply of sufficient structural and functional integrity to withstand morbid influences.

Weather

a little warmer

Temp.

to day but cold again to night. Aleta & Eugene went to Aylmer & left little John with us. Grandpa went to Aylmer brought me a new pair of shoes Eugene & his man was here again on their way & Aylmer again to night. Mr. Cox was over this morning. John drew two loads of parts home from Aylmer
