

Monday, December 30

365 DAYS PAST

Sunday

I TO COME

An Essential Need of the Tuberculous Invalid

is hemic reconstruction. The building of new red cells and the creation of hemoglobin is required, in order to increase the ability of the system to assimilate food and withstand the infection. Pepto-Mangan (Gude) supplies iron and manganese in non-irritant, easily absorbable form, and does not, in the least, interfere with the patient's digestion, an item of no mean importance in this disease.

Weather

Temp.

A fine day

Girls' went to church this morning, & being w/ Mrs McLeay home with them. At night they took her home & then went to church. I was over to see Eva & John went to Marks Cecil was home. Mrs Shurberts & Marks was to the over