167 TO COME

Clinical Wisdom.

An easily assimilable form of iron feeds the red blood cells and thus supplies fuel for the vital fire in Anemic, Chlorotic and generally devitalized conditions. In addition to a judiciously selected food supply, it is the part of wisdom to order Pepto--Mangan (Gude), the ideal hematinic in such cases, by virtue of its organic ferruginous and manganic content, in non-irritant, readily absorbable and non-constipating form.
