

TUESDAY, MAY 24, 1870.

This day is Louise's birthday and we, of course, had to observe the usual custom. All hands of us went out to David. There was a great crowd present but all that I saw was the Jacoble. This I enjoyed a good deal as I came across quite a number of old friends. Besides I became acquainted with several fine intelligent looking young ladies which pleased me even more. I took dinner with some of my friends, the Lovings on the Hill and had a pleasant time generally. I can still say and hope I always may that my delight is to do the Will of God.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 25, 1870.

Charley has been ploughing the potato ground yesterday or rather today. The boy has been helping me plant potatoes come beans & C. I went out to Clover this morning after my pick as we liked work has not as yet made his appearance and mother cannot possibly get along alone at present.

Bro. Garrison sent after his cow this afternoon. I was to have twenty five dollars for her. She is quite small but a very do good little cow for milk. I think that he gets her at a bargain but then it is to be made
