

to wait quite awhile for them but Nora's younger sister Hildaquard was home so I didn't much mind the wait. Win & I didn't get home till quite awhile after twelve Dick and I had an invitation to a big dance down in the town hall to-night but neither of us went. Allan Law & one of the Powells down the lake shore got it up. It has been a nice day but a rather raw wind.

Thurs day March 18th

This morning we did chores and then treated the two youngst calves horns with a caustic potash to kill them. Mary, Mully calf, didn't have any horns so she escaped the ordeal. we haven't quite decided on a name for the other two calves but we thought that for Jim's calf coming next after Mary, that Martha would suit very well and for Snow drop's blackie we thought "Just You along" might fit in, the only thing with that name is I am afraid that when she becomes of age and is eligible to be sworn at it will be a rather a nuisance. This afternoon Dad drove ^{to Liddums} Ench down to the mill house to call on Mrs. Josef Iwey and he drove on down town and got a bushel of clover seed from Billy Lains. Charlie Neun sent word over by him that he was having a party and wanted me to go down so I went. There were just a few there, the Henry girls and May Rankin & Mabel Elmas and two or three boys but we had a good time and still got home soon after twelve. We didn't play cards or any such tame sport as that but we just cut up all the time peeled the rugs of the floor & danced and played a lot of games which we could clean around at. It has been a nice day but rather a raw wind.

Friday March 19th

This afternoon morning Dad, Liddums & I drove up to Billy Dixon's and got our seed corn we got all we think we will need for a dollar. Dad stopped in on the way up & saw George Duncan about getting some rails George told him they were going to tear down a lot of fence around the big orchard & Carpenters bush and that we & Allan Law could start in to haul it right away so Dad went down to see Alan when we got home and he said he could go tomorrow morning. It was a lovely morning and I think Liddums enjoyed himself but couldn't keep awake to enjoy the latter half of the journey and when we came through town he was sound asleep on my arm Dick & Harry Ansley both wanted to wake him up, he did open his eyes but shut them again immediately. This afternoon I took Luch Dave & Queen out for a little exercise. Queen
