

THURSDAY, AUGUST 18, 1870.

Charley and Gill
have been getting out manure to day on the wheat grounds.

I have been off nearly all day peeing about threshers. Expect them to come Saturday.

We do not seem to make much progress with our feeding. I will be glad when we can get through with our other work a little so as to give it all our attention.

I am ~~conscious~~ of having been glad this day by my heavenly Father in the work which he has given me to do.
There seemed to be trouble before me this morning but He has delivered me from it.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 19, 1870.

Still we as being as ever and just as our work does not seem to go forward very fast.
I went out with a load of hay this afternoon to Dover.

One says - "Whatever puts a man into company with God, makes him happy;
for "in His presence there is fullness of joy" As one cannot come to the fire without being warmed, he cannot come to God without being blessed. An imperceptible spiritual influence goes out from all Christians in life, which makes us catch the spirit of our associates. This is preeminently the case in our intercourse with God. O how desirable this intercourse.
