

afternoon I helped Dad clean up some oats and barley and move the turning mill and then raked up clover seed till night. Dad put Crab's shelves in the clothes room this morning and then finished cutting the clover seed.
 This afternoon he started to clean up the barn floor so we could haul in the clover seed. It was a big job as he had to carry most of the dirt out to the chicken yard or big yard and then dump the oats which were in the box on the floor with the other oats and fill the box with the barley & oats from the bin and then put the oats on the floor into the bin so he didn't get nearly finished. he didn't feel very well and had Sid to help him.
 To night I took Joe down town with the saddle on her and both Essie & Mary got on her, neither of them could reach the stirrups so they could not ride far and I held Joe's head most of the time. I had the big saddle on so could not shorten the stirrups but I promised to bring her down again with the little saddle.
 I went down to Aunt's for awhile before I came home, they expected Aunty on and to night but she didn't come Wed day, very windy.

Wednesday October 27th

I cut corn all morning and got on fairly well. Dad finished cleaning up the barn floor and then afternoon we hauled in two loads of clover seed. out of the wind row, we left the last load on the barn floor. Charlie M. Carty was in to night and bought the biggest ram lamb for eight dollars. Crab and the baby went down town this afternoon. We saw Mr. Robertson going out the side road this afternoon so we supposed Maimie Span's wedding come off all right. Ray Hammond was he married to day too, to Miss Annetta out on the town line. Crab said she saw another wedding party down town of which Miss Blossom & Mr. Todd were the chief figures. Very cloudy & cool.

Thursday October 28th

I cut corn all morning and got about 24 shocks cut.
 Dad chared around till the dew dried off about ten o'clock and then raked up the clover seed as part of it, he didn't quite finish by noon, he just raked one way of the field so that we didn't have so much turning. This afternoon we hauled in a couple more loads, the first was rather a small one, and we left the last on the wagon. Dick came home about ~~ten~~ o'clock and took Jess and went to Jim's as Jess is up there visiting. Crab has been house cleaning the dining room all day. Alan Lee told us that Pickpet has bought their farm and they will have to get off, we were sorry to hear it. Cloudy mostly & windy.
