

We got all the oats cleaned and quite a lot of the barley Charlie Butler was in this afternoon for a minute or two he says Dad. thinks has an attack of lymphangitis. Tonight I walked down to see if Mary. would like to go to see one on Friday night to see the "Battle Cry of Peace" at the show I guess she would have liked to go but then ^{get shy} ^{County Alice} hadnt better. I stopped in for a few minutes to see County O

Thursday May 11th

Dad. took a load of manure down this morning to Auntie Alice for the garden and Frank and I set out the two English walnuts and two of the cherry trees which we got from Mr. Morgan. This afternoon he went back and dished and Dad took Joe & Belle back and harrowed for awhile. I set out the other four cherry trees and just discharged. Very high strong ^{leaves}

Friday May 12th

Mr. Carpenter came after Dad. this morning which we were milking to go and see his mare which was foaling, so Dad. had to go up there before breakfast he went out and harrowed as soon as he got back and this afternoon they took the drill back and sowed barley & oats which we mixed on the bare places at night. He got it all sowed but didnt get over all the ground they had worked up. I just hid three I took 4.5 chicks out of the incubator and put them under three hens but two died. Lila stays here all night

Saturday May 13th

Frank has been back working on the land all day and Dad. was back this morning and finished drilling all that was in fit shape. I worked around here put the three hens with the chicks in the colony house and took two more out of the incubator but two of them were weak. I also cut some more of the lawn. This afternoon Dad. and I hucked Joe & Queen to the wagon and went down town and took some furniture of Auntie's down to her as she had room for it now that Cousin Clare has moved into her new house Just as we got opposite the Titanic. Queen jumped at a rut in the road and piece broke off the end of the tongue causing the iron to bend and let the tongue down. Dad. tied it up with a strap which caught
