

but not very hard. I slopped around in the mud doing chores part of the time and spent the rest of the time bothering Enoch who was making mince meat.

Wednesday December 13th

Dad and I drove Aunty up to Vittoria this morning to catch the train for Pt. Rennie as she was going to see Aunty & Da. The road were awful except in a few sandy places. We got home about one. There were a lot of people plowing along the road. Mrs. Bawley drove Louise down this afternoon but she had to meet him at half past four down town. Enoch went down town with her and got back about six with the boys. Dad went back and shovelled ditches all the afternoon. I hung around not doing anything but chores. It snowed last night a little and was cloudy and cold this morning but turned out a lovely day (above the mud level) and is quite mild to-night.

Thursday December 14th

Froze a little last night, beautiful morning but got colder towards evening and is snowing to-night and making things slipper than ever. I sawed wood all morning and Dad did chores. Did not do any thing much this afternoon. felt rotten. My shoulder hurt me all day and I was cold. Dad did various things around outside.

Friday December 15th

Did not do any thing much this morning. Dad cleaned chickens all morning. I went back to the gully which is all flooded. The creek is going to heat the cars, as it rained hard last night. Dad and Enoch went down town this afternoon. Dad wanted to get Belle shod. He was going up to the school house as all the rate payers were asked to go up and inspect the undecreable condition of the school house but Dad did not go up. They got back after five. I did chores and milked. This I have not done since last Sunday morning.
