

September, 1928.

29. Saturday. Fair. The men plowed all day. Tonight we all went to Angus Weber's at Waterloo with Charles Miller in his new Plymouth.

30 Sunday. Lovely day. We went to Woolwich Sunday school this morning and to the Elmira Rally Day service at 11. a.m. where Rev. Imrie preached. We were at John Schweitzer's for dinner. This afternoon we went to church again and it was crowded to the doors. The Bridgeport orchestra rendered excellent music. Rev. Petch of New Hamburg gave an address and Howard Deriamu of Toronto gave an illustrated talk. We came home for tea and visited Enock Schneider tonight.
