

while Dad & Frank cultivated potatoes. Sunday was a very hot day. we all went to Church & Dad stayed down and went down to the beach with Dick. Mary & I went for a drive in the evening. Sunday afternoon was decoration day and the band went with the old fellows to the cemetery. It rained a little Sunday night and Monday I went down to do some painting and get a couple of show cards to do for Ben. I worked out most of the day and sent down with Frank at night. Ben gave Frank a cheque for $100 for beer and to pay an old debt he had with Frank. he gave him at Frank's suggestion $100's worth of dance tickets. I felt rather sick all day and went to bed early. about ten o'clock we had a terrific thunder storm which was followed by two or three more during the night. The thunder was deafening almost and a great deal of it. It drizzled nearly all Tuesday morning so I went down and with Aunty's help painted a very gaudy sign for Jimmie advertising Daff drinks. In the afternoon I started at Ben's sign which he told me to go ahead at as he guessed Dyer didn't intend to do it. It was late when I got the scaffold fixed so I only put about an hour's work in on it. Frank cut some hay Monday afternoon. Tuesday he drove went up to Jack M. Dyer's and got some fence posts to put across the corner field to hit the hay in where the hay was taken off. Wednesday I was down town all day finished Ben's sign and got just about as far as I could get Jimmie's big sign board all penciled out to paint. Thursday I went down and spent most of the day painting it but finished this afternoon. Mary's father came in Wednesday night and she was with him most of the afternoon. Dad & Frank shook up the hay today & Frank raked it. Friday was the great Dominion Daff and there was a bigger crowd in Dorey I think than ever before. There must have been a thousand cars in town parked every where you looked and running all over, and the radial cars were packed. Frank, Dad & I raked up the hay in the forenoon and Dad
