

was very heavy Saturday Frank was over helping Pickford all day so Dad and I finished hauling the hay and got one load of wheat up. We could unload the hay without mowing it as the last are put in we put in the big barn in the empty bay. Mr. Clarke came back from Nanticoke on the 16th and come over here on the 19th. So day Mary, Mr. Clarke & I drove down to Chesapeake and we had chicken for dinner to celebrate. We then she went down this afternoon and saw the deer. The buck has his horns back again now in the velvet and they look very dark & fat. I culled out my chickens the other night and sold 17 all the white ones to Jack and Chris shipped six rooks to Lewis or me. I didn't get paid so I don't know how much I got.

Monday July 25th

So day we finished hauling the wheat. Dad & Frank hailed it up and while they were after tons Mary and I weeded mangles and I helped them unload. This afternoon Mary and Ersk went down to the first performance of the Chautauqua. and Mary and I went down at night. The music was lovely.

Tuesday July 26th

Mary and I finished weeding the mangle this morning and I drove her & her father down to catch the one o'clock car and they went to Brantford and Mr. Clarke stayed there to have Dr.
Sticks examine him. I stayed down for the afternoon and went to the Chautauqua and heard a man lecture on Soviet Russia. he was a prisoner there for some time and travelled over a good portion of it. I also got my hair cut and made arrangements with Ben Juey to paint some more signs for him. George Zealand and I are to do it on Thursday if Ben gets the back ground painted. So night all the family but Mary & I went to the Chautauqua to see Davis the magician which they enjoyed very much.

Wednesday July 27th Mary and I weeded two rows of potatoes this morning and Dad & I weeded some more this afternoon Ersk went to the Chautauqua and Mary went and sat with Auntie and let Auntie
