

at Experimental Union meeting but thought I would come home for lunch. I left with E. M. me for the library this afternoon. accordingly I just took a little walk down to the Outle dam where the 1st year students were combing beavers for the College Payal next week and then I went up to the library where I stayed till dark and had a fine time just poking around. Still very mild.

Wednesday January 11th

To-day has been fully taken up with classes. one lecture dealt with package bees and I have been wondering ever since how our packages ever lived let alone make any honey after the treat we have given them. One of our class is going to try tobacco growing at Delhi. Another was telling me of a man name Stodger at Jarvis who is a great bee man & inventor of bee machinery. Funny I never heard of him before. To-night we all the Short Course students were invited to a dance at Mr. Donald Hall. The two boys in the next room went so I went along too and had a very nice time. There was no dancing owing to the serious condition of Prof. Wade Laake who is at the point of death following an operation. Rained in night. Mild.

Thursday January 12th

Nothing unusual to-day. Was all day at the College. and after lecture this afternoon had a swim in the pool at the gymnasium. Had two letters from home which were mighty welcome. One from Mary & one from Penny Olcott. Sat around room all evening talking to Bill. other two birds out someplace. Prof. Laake died last night at 11.45. Flag on College at half mast and routine more or less disturbed although it didn't affect our classes. Still very mild.

Friday January 13th

We had a lecture from Prof. Graham at the Pathology Building first thing this morning so I got up and had breakfast with Bill and walked up there with him before day-light and hurried around the old familiar plant till class time. Put in a little while in library after lectures. Had another letter from Mary. Spent the evening swapping yarns with the boys and sewing a button on my overcoat. Wrote a letter to Mary. Mild.

Saturday January 14th

No classes at all to-day. Didn't get up very early.
