

Friday, December 29

364 DAYS PAST

SUNDAY

2 TO COME

Strangulated Hernia.

Most cases of strangulated hernia give positive evidence of intestinal obstruction, besides the local sign of an unreducible hernia, but strangulation may exist without marked signs of obstruction, as for instance, we may have a large mass of omentum incarcerated, with shock, vomiting and the local signs present, and yet the bowels continue to move, until a peritonitis produces the obstruction and death.—F. Flaherty; N. Y. State Journal of Medicine.

Weather

Temp.

Cold with a few snow flurries. Maude & Chris Gill was up all day to see Maude & she enjoyed them. John was one to Mr. Jones & that is all.