

Thursday July 15th

Frank cultivated the corn this morning and Dad hoed in the garden and I finished raking the lawn and hoed two rows and a half of potatoes in the field. Sid. went down to Aunt's yer dinner and the rest of us all went to Mrs. Flemming's funeral. There was about the biggest crowd there I ever saw at a funeral nearly every one from around here and a great many from down east. Dad was one of the bearers so went up with them. I drove up and took old Manceur up with me. We missed the procession as they went through town and we went by the mill. After the funeral Dad and I drove home around by Jim. Waddie as Dad wanted to see the H. H. Cold but Jim had shipped the mare to Toronto to be bred. He was hauling in hay. It was after five when we got home. Frank had come home and raked up the first cut hay and was cooking up. Jack Owey was over and wanted him to make them up to morrow. I went down to band concert to night. Fine day but cold to night.

Friday July 16th

Frank went to the mill before breakfast this morning and got some chop for the hogs & Culls. He and I dozed the lumber for tape-worms, after breakfast and then he went over and raked up

Jock's hay for them. Dad and I cooked up what was raked in the field north of the orchard and started in to cook up what was left in wind row across the gully. Frank came back a little before noon and finished raking this field and we spent the after noon finishing across the gully and cooking up in this field. We went out after tea and cooked up some but didn't quite finish. Old Moon shined broke out of his pen this morning so Frank had to fix it up after dinner. He set things in the barn and got into a bag of chop but I think spilled more than he ate. Cool wind all day & quite cold to night.

Saturday July 17th

We had to hay to day from the field north of the orchard and would have cleared it if we had not had to put poles across in the big barn to build a mow so that we could have the clover hay where we could get at it. We put one load in the horse stable and then had to change the cars so that altogether we were delayed about two hours or more and only got in two loads this morning. We got in fire this after noon. Mr. & Mrs. Millman, Percy & Kathleen all came up from Toronto to day. Paw & Mrs. Millman are staying at Aunt's. They were over here for a while after tea with Rev. & Alice. Percy's wife, children & mother in law. Cool first fire.
