

Saturday March 5th

Did chores all forenoon. Beside my own I did Davis' noon chore for him as he and Mrs. Hampton went to Watford this morning to his brother's funeral. This afternoon I helped Mary a little in the house and she cleaned out the brooder house. Tom was over this morning and said he thought the stable over there would be thawed out enough to clean to-day. Tom & Din. were over for a few minutes this afternoon. Tom had his gun but hasn't seen anything to shoot. Fine and mild. Very soft & sloppy.

Sunday March 6th

I walked over to Lois this morning to ask him to come over and help me do chores to night as Anna Alice invited me down there for tea. I then went over to Davis to see if I could get Doc. & the waggon to go after coal to-morrow and from there I went over to the school house and put on a fire for Sunday school. I spent a comparatively peaceful afternoon in the house while Mary was at Sunday school. She brought Mable back with her to stay all night. Tom came over and did most of the night chores but I didn't get started away quite soon enough to be at Auntys on time for tea. They weren't through then yet and I went to church with them. After church I went to the band concert in the hall. There was a good crowd and all of our family who were there said the band did well. Mild!

Monday March 7th

Tom Stone & Tom Batters have been working at the old elm in the flats all day and have it all but the two fault logs pretty well sawed up. Tom Stone thinks we had better save the second log for plank. but the first one is inclined to be punky. I took Queen over to Davis this morning, got Doc & his waggon and got a load of stone coal. They had no chestnut in. It was afternoon when I got through and I didn't do much but chores the rest of the day. Very mild. raining to night.

Tuesday March 8th

Bath Lois came back to work at the wood & day and I went down too for the forenoon. The creek was high this morning and Tom Stone and I had to cross it on an ice jam and while we were doing it Tom lost his axe in the creek. We poked around for half
