

Tuesday June 18th

We fixed our milk through the separator all right this morning as it was all to-gether.

There was no sign of Bill here all day to-day, but Dick and Bob Law both saw him down town and he said he was coming home to-night.

After breakfast I drove Belle down to Greenbury's to get her shod and when I came back it was kind of drizzle. Daddy and Enak were laying the parlor carpet. After I put Belle away I went back and started to plant corn where the crows had pulled it up.

After dinner, Daddy went over to a barn raising at Fleming's and did not get back till dark. I planted corn most of the afternoon, then I watered the horses and gave them hay. I milked after tea and fed the calves and fitters.

Then I came in and started to put the milk through the separator and found all kinds of things wrong. First the washer was ~~under~~ the wood lark in stead of over it and that made an awful rattle. Then the rubber on the tube did not go in the hole and we squirted milk all over the floor. After that was remedied the cream started going into the milk vessel and vice versa. But at last we got it all through and are now at peace and hope to be till tomorrow morning.

It has been cold and rather windy all day to-day. Rather cloudy and inclined to rain.

Dick got a lot of straw-berries over in the garden to-day.
