

The Bruce" and read "Henry VIII and His Court."

Feb. 3rd
Saturday Very mild - dull - almost-raining.
Dinny at Public Library in the afternoon and at Moore's in evening. She went to station to meet Ferns and then over to Huldiday's. John Graywell came up about 10 p.m. for points on debate for Monday. Resolved - "That Travelling is more Educational than Reading." John on negative. I had forgotten it so did not have it ready. He talked it over with Lemi for about an hour & after he left Charles and I arranged points and he wrote them out - to be delivered at church in the morning.
Studied.

Feb. 4th Sunday Raining quite heavily. Turned to snow in afternoon. Sunshine for a short time. Mr. Conrad Key called
