

and so I had to go down right after dinner for some pieces & the mail I drove them down for him. I hurried back but it must have been after half past two when I got out to the corn field but by working till after sundown I managed to get the row cut through, it kept me busy as there must have been twenty five or six shocks.
 Dad. cut clover seed all the after noon and says it will take long to finish, he caught a little rabbit out there and we brought it up to the house but it seemed so frightened that we let it go out on the lawn, we saw a blue squirrel go up the willow tree the other morning, they say they are thick this fall and grey too - as it has been close season for them for four or five years but I guess they are shooting lots of them now although the season isn't open except two weeks in November. Frank got home soon after tea he had his down at Auntys, he said the nuts were nearly all gone, he biked back down town again as soon as he changed his clothes. It froze hard last night, beautiful day.

Sunday October 24th

Dad. Dick and I drove down to church this morning and after church Dad. drove Aunty Alice up to the cemetery All Hubby's family were over to dinner, which was rather late. Aunt, Dick, Frank and I went out and picked up a lot more hickory nuts before dinner. This after noon drove Hubby home and then took Mary for a drive, she was papin's house all alone as Mr. & Mrs. Bagley had gone to Sincere and Essie was out at Marburg, so we drove around by Marburg but didn't see her. I went down to church to night with, spent the evening up at the Bagley's. It froze very hard last night and has been sunny but cold all day.

Monday October 25th

Dad. plowed this morning as it was to wet to cut down seed but he cut all the after noon but didn't quite finish I cut corn all day and got started on the eighth row Tom Abbot came in to night and got a bag of wheat and a bag of barley & oats in part payment for the chicken I got from him, he is going to take it all in feed. I have to pluck a hen to night for Aunty Alice. Frank is busy pasting weeds on a big piece of card board and Dad. is denouncing the Education Department for causing such a foolish waste of time. Mild night and looks like rain.

Tuesday October 26th

I cut corn all morning and finished another row. This
