

Snow drop had a big black bull calf, and Gladys killed another pig. Ed. was over this afternoon telling his adventures in the 133rd. He is Quartermaster sergeant now. Nice day but rather cloudy and wet.

Saturday April 22nd.

This morning we just did chores, and Dad. had a bath and went down to Auntie's for dinner. he wanted to get his hair cut for Easter. He was gone all the afternoon. I cleaned out the horse stable and Frank started to harness clean the shop. then we foaled around awhile and at last put the saddle on Queen and he got on and rode her down the road a little way. When Dad. came home he found she had miscarried bringing the paper so after we got the horses fed. Frank I put the saddle on Ginger and rode down to Auntie's and put it. So night Frank and I set two boxes on thirty eggs. Gram. (W) alker was in to night to get a ball and to borrow the speculum for a lymphatic horse.

Sunday April 23rd

This being Easter we all went to church. Dad. took the baby who was pretty good. but having a baby sit right across the aisle didn't improve his behavior any. Dick came over to dinner. This afternoon Frank and I went over to John Wess' and Frank set some traps up in Mr. Queens & Robert John's gullys. We got home just in time to let Cook go to church, Dad. had to go down this afternoon to see Della's cow again. she isn't doing right. Charlie Quamby came over twice since six o'clock to get Dad. to go and look at his colt. Dad. went back with him the last time and just got there in time to see it die. he is going back in the morning to hold a post mortem, it was the one I got in Brantford for fifty eight dollars. Lovely morning but cloudy & rainy later.

Monday April 24th

Dad. & Frank went over to Quamby's this morning soon after break fast. Dad. to dissect the dead horse and Frank to skin it as Charlie told him he could have the hide if he would skin it. Dad. had to go down town to see Della's cow, and so didn't finish his job before dinner and stayed at the Quamby's to dinner, neither he nor Frank got home till nearly four o'clock. but he found out what was the matter with the colt. He had distemper last winter and
