

Charles came home early at 2:00.
Chess, Isabel came up in the afternoon with eggs from Mrs. Janknein. Mr. Oliver called after tea to borrow "Dan from the Madding Crowd". Charles went up the hill to say good-bye to Clare & Jack. Dorothy and I, being tired, stayed at home and I got all four kinds of patience with my new Cards.

Dec. 27th Was very tired so was not out until about Thursday a quarter to three - when I walked on veranda for 20 mins. Copey, Jen and Jan came over and we spent the afternoon learning mah jong. They came back after eight and we had another session at it. Finished reading "The yellow seven" by Edmund Spenser.
Raining about 11 p.m.

Dec. 28th - Blizzard - 5-day. Cleaned up library Friday desk, Magazine stand etc. Dorothy went down town in the morning and had her dinner over at Halliday's. Barbara & Edna Snyder were here in the
