IN GENERAL DEBILITY

following acute diseases, where the functions of the organism are in a state of depression, and in all cases where there is a diminution of the red blood cells and amount of hemoglobin, Pepto-Mangan (Gude) produces speedy relief, because it overcomes the derangement in metabolic balance, restores the erythrocytes to their normal power and stimulates the hematopoietic organs. The tissues take up the oxygen yielded by the hemoglobin, and the patient gains strength and weight.

A fine day. John has been drawing manure all day. Albert was up & got two loads of rails. I washed. His drove to school. Al & Mrs Dance was here, on their way to Apleron & stopped a minute on their way home. Mrs Dance was out to see the Dr. Carlton Dance has gone to the west to be married. East wind to night. Temp 6
