August Monday 29 1927

Spent most of the morning digging the early potatoes in the garden and after dinner I picked them up with Jean's assistance and put them away in the cellar. Helped Don get in a jag of hay and then cut second cut alfalfa till 7:45. Webster was up again but the motor wouldn't work on the separator.

Saturday 27

Ran in practically all morning in the sheep industry when I caught and held the sheep while Mr. Barker trimmed them, pared their feet, and gave them pills for worms. Took in three jags of hay and some peas and pitched them all off in afternoon. Apple buyer from Kitchener came so Mr. Barker didn't go to town so Jean & I did up the family business.
