THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH.

(1924 MODEL.)

Under an ad for gasoline
The village smithy stands;
He's agent for the Jinx machine
And several other brands.
He hasn't shod a horse for years,
For fear he'd soil his hands.

He wears a gold watch on his wrist,
A pearl pin in his tie,
His links are made of amethyst,
The finest he could buy.
There's not a thing the smithy wears
That doesn't please the eye.

Week in, week out, from morn till night,
He sees the autos come
With brakes that are not working right
And axles on the bum.
With gas, repairs, and grease and oil,
He makes a tidy sum.

He has a staff of skillful men
That number twenty-four,
Who toil from six a.m. till ten
And sometimes even more.
The smithy never does a stroke—
He thinks that work's a bore.

The children coming home from school
Look in at the open door,
And laugh to see some city fool
Set up an awful roar
When called to pay some whopping bill
The smith has soaked him for.

He goes on Sunday to the kirk,
His mind quite free from cares,
Because his men are hard at work
With punctures and repairs.
And if the weather's fine and warm
The smith says grateful prayers.

Oiling—refilling—repairing,
Onward through life he goes.
And never once despairing
So long as his income grows.
Each night the thought of some one done
Augments his sweet repose.

—Percy Waxman in Harper's.
