Surgical Hints.

Marked atheromatous changes in the arteries contraindicate amputations less on account of danger of hemorrhage than because of the risk of sloughing of the flaps owing to lowered vitality. Therefore, a method that will give the best blood supply should be selected.—Int. Journ of Surg.

Weather

Temp.

Look Maud to school and had Marika shod. Look Auntie Seple to town early in the afternoon for good.
Mother and I went over to see
Mr. Cox. He was much better.
Beautiful day, but very cool wind
I visited Auntie Lane.
