The Early Recognition of Cancer.

CARCINOMA OF THE LARYNX. Hoarseness occurring in a person of middle age, not accompanied by coughing, is a constant symptom of beginning malignancy. A laryngoscopic examination will clear up the diagnosis. If cancer exists an immediate operation means cure, while even a slight delay may find the condition inoperable.—Levin; Archives of Diagnosis.

Weather

and a nice last Temp. 40°

& froze an awful stormy night. The wind made old house shake & this morning it was snowing & blowing something all the forenoon. He was home all day. Little Marshall Thompson came & brought Lewis's dog up & Lewis came for him
