151 TO COME

The "Iron Need"

in Chlorosis, is unquestionable and is readily noted, by the practiced eye, in the peculiar pallor of the skin and mucous membranes. Such an "iron need" is best supplied in the form of a palatable, tolerable, non-irritant, easily assimilable compound, i.e., Pepto-Mangan (Gude). This organic combination of iron and manganese meets every indication without injuring the digestion or inducing a constipated habit.

Weather

Temp.

Much cooler this morning, I took Maudie's coat out this morning & she could have it - to go down. Carl was out all day & he helped John mow away wheat. Carl brought a little pig when he came. Mella took Carl home & Mariah brought Maudie
