HOW TO GET ALONG.

- Pay as you go.
- Never fool in business matters.
- Do not kick every one in your path.
- Learn to think and act for yourself.
- Keep ahead rather than behind the times.
- Don't stop to tell stories in business hours.
- Have order, system, regularity and promptness.
- Use your own brains rather than those of others.
- Do not meddle with business you know nothing of.
- A man of honour respects his word as he does his bond.
- No man can get rich by sitting around stores and saloons.
- If you have a place of business, be found there when wanted.
- More miles can be made in one day by going steadily than by stopping.
- Help others when you can, but never give what you cannot afford because it is fashionable.
- Learn to say No. No necessity of snapping it out dog-fashion, but say it firmly and respectfully.
- An attached couple—The shells of an oyster.

Which is the oldest tree? The elder, of course.

A CLERGYMAN said the other day that modern young ladies were not daughters of Shem and Ham; but daughters of Hem and Sham—compounds of plain sewing and make-believe.

A wag out West who read that dry copperas put into a bed of ants would cause them to leave, put some in his mother-in-law's bed to see if she wouldn't go. He says she was there at last accounts.

A GENTLEMAN going up Sixth Avenue met a laborer, to whom he said: "Will you tell me if I am half way to Central Park?" "Faith, an' I will," was the reply, "if you tell me where you started from."

EVERYBODY should plan to have pleasant conversation at table, just as they plan for good food. A little story telling, a little reading, it may be of humorous items, will often render the meal more beneficial. Avoid, if possible, going to the table "all tired out." Put aside troubles, and do not reprove servants or children, but think and say something pleasant. Let meal-time be a cheerful time, and the good result will be seen in improved health.
