This morning I took Sam's drill back home. I didn't get started very early and was talking to Alan for a while so didn't get home till noon. This afternoon we all went down to see the new fish boat launched "The City of Dover". She didn't go in very well as one of the skids had more of a slant to it than the other so the stern end went in first and the other end bound but they got her in eventually without any injury, they then had to fill her with water to get her under the bridge. I went up to town and got a tooth filled and Dad got his hair cut he drove Euk and the Haley home and I got a ride home with Flossie Shand. It has been sunny and nice today but cold wind.
