

~~Thursday~~ Friday. April 6th Good Friday.

Frank and I sheared sheep all day but although we got an earlier start we didn't get on so well. Whether it was due to stiff grass in the wool or to dull clipped blades we didn't know but Frank went down just before dinner and got a couple of new sets. He had to go to Hall's house as this of course was a holiday. We didn't make any attempt to go to church as we couldn't all get in the buggy, and our car is not fixed yet. Dad, Enah & Lin all drove down to service but Dad says the roads around the hill and down past Mennings old house are fierce. It has been a beautiful day and they have dried up a good deal.

Saturday April 7th

Sheared sheep to-day and got ten done. Frank was shearing the old row when I got there. He had an 11th fleece. We also sheared 7 yearlings which were small & hard to hold. It was cloudy & rainy and most of them were hard to shear. Annie was over at the farm for dinner. She is up at Aunt's for over Easter. I must come home last night. He has rented a house in Fort Francis & will take Gladys ^{couple of weeks} back in a

Sunday April 8th Easter.

A high south west gale with a blinding blizzard about every ten minutes with interludes of sunshine was Nature's contribution to the Easter oratorio. It was a very impressive obligation but not what we usually associate in our minds with vernal harmonies. It is freezing hard to night. We didn't attempt to go to church we couldn't have gone with out the car even if the weather had been nice and we couldn't have gone if we had had the car, as the roads into town are still impassable. Mary was tired after a long day's cleaning & baking, quite day so she stayed in bed and read most of the day but got up in time to roast a delicious piece of beef for dinner. To night I sat around the house and read or did odd jobs most of the day. To-night I walked over to Louis and got some eggs and walked on down to Aunt's with them and left them for Frank to take down to Clara tomorrow as he intends driving Dick's car to Toronto to get Irene. Louise is going with him. Dad & Enah came down to Aunt's with Louise after church and I stayed there visiting till after tea and then walked as far as the top of the hill with Merv & Herb. Law gave me a lift part way
