

Look to Mr. Adley
 out to blow in time for the Grand trunk train North.
 We expect to arrive
 in the Montreal to morrow morning at about eight. Have been more than pleased with this evening. His company has been particularly enjoyable.
 I felt sorry to have
 him leave so soon.
 Lewis continues to
 plough and the field
 by Mr. Brides and Joe is now harrow-
 ing. The growing has rows up beautifully.
 Our old spotted cow
 got mixed in the creek to night. Expect to have a calf getting her out.

On account of rain
 we could not go out to church as is our custom. Our old spotted cow got down in the muddy creek bottom and Joe and had to get her out this morning.
 She seems to be weak
 from want of green food arising from the protracted dry weather,
 her legs being all gone with age. The rain
 has continued to fall
 nearly all day, and the dry weather is distress at last.

Have enjoyed some precious seasons in
 sweetest communion
 with my God through the day. His favour
 is indeed better than life.
