

I went down to Aunt's just at noon and stayed to dinner and after dinner pruned a few of the old branches out of the barberry bush for Aunt. I got home about three o'clock and got most of the lawn cut over here. Lila was over here to dinner. Dad. plowed all the afternoon and made a couple of hog troughs. Dad. plowed up a nest of rabbits this afternoon. He killed two of them with the plow but brought two live ones home. They are only a few days old and I am afraid they won't live. Sunny but cool.

Sunday September 9th

Enah and I drove down to church this morning and Aunt came back with us to dinner. Frank spent the morning in trying out some new kind of solder he got at the exhibition which is applied like sealing wax and Dad. did chores and shocked up the twelve oat shocks. Aunt says he shocked more than the oats. I started to read after dinner but went to sleep almost immediately and slumbered peacefully till Aunt was ready to go down town and then I went down there to tea and church with Aunt & Aunt Alice. After church I went home with Mary who has changed her place of abode from the Bagley's to Miss Kerneg's. I wrote Dick a short note when I got home. Frank and Enah walked down to church in night. Fine. Candy & Carl. Fable's feet & nest.

Monday September 10th

Frank and I took Babbie down to the car this morning. Frank led her and I drove in the buggy. Neil wasn't around but we left Babbie in the pen, one pig was the only other occupant of the pen. We went around by the station and got a poultry crate which Frank got from Silver woods to ship his ducks in. We saw Stuby and he said there was a heavy white frost down at the station but no sign of it at his place. When we got home Frank sorted out the ducks he wanted to keep and let them loose and graded up the lawn. After dinner I took Belle & Lucien and went back and dished on the back field where Dad. had been plowing all morning and Dad. finished plowing the field and started in to harrow it. It is going to work up fine. Mrs. Supper came past this afternoon and said Clem. wanted one of nests grand help thrash this afternoon, as it was then about four o'clock and the machine wasn't there yet, we didn't think they would do much but I told her to go up and get Frank, so she did and Frank was over there helping Supper till after tea. The machine just got there at dark. He wants two of us to help him to-morrow. According to the daily paper the Russians are cutting up rusty again. Korailoff is leading a revolt against Kerensky at the Provisional Government and marching with his troops away from the battle front. Cold wind all day & night.
