

were wanted to thank this week but Dad didn't think we could get ready. Frank and I walked down to church. Cousin Willie officiated as Mr. Johnson is away on his holiday. Every body expressed great delight at the service and I didn't go to sleep during the sermon. Geitha Barwell was there for the first time this summer I think and sang a solo. She and I made arrangements for a ride to night. The Dunkin girls were there and wanted me to go over there this afternoon I wasn't very anxious to but said I would for a while. Aunty and Aunty Alice came over to dinner and Dick was here when we got home, he slept too late to get to church and was disappointed as he wanted to hear Geitha sing. He and I went down to get there after dinner and I spoke around with the Dunkins for an hour or more and got home about five. I wanted to get up to Barwells about six but Winnie and her two friends from Caledonia Miss M. Celpin & Miss Lyons were here to see so that delayed us a little and by the time we got the milking done our horses saddled and up there it was seven o'clock Frank was up so Geitha had a horse of her own now to ride and I thought it would be awkward having for Frank waited there with Bill till we came back. It was after dark but there was a week old moon and it was cool so we had a great ride down the Radical as far as the town bridge and then back up to the brick schoolhouse and across the gravel and down to the Barwells. We went rather slowly so it was pretty late when Frank and I got home. He and Bill had been back to the Cadet Camp on Fed. Davis place Frank had been up there this afternoon. Nice cool day.

Monday September 4th - Labor Day

Dad and Enah both felt rather tough to-day for some reason or other. They had colds and sore throats, the baby wasn't very well either. This morning Dad and I went along the east side of the lane and tried to fix the fence at the bottom so that the rams couldn't get under. I then took the other rooster of to Jack Martins and went in to borrow Charlie's buggy for Dad. Charlie was knocked out too. Today was the first anniversary of the Shanti school reunion of Mrs. Dally Smith's pupils and all the people in the section got an invitation. Dad and Enah were going but didn't know what time it was till Meritt Walker came in ~~on~~ on his way out & got Dad's advice about a horse with the collar and said they were to meet out there at eleven o'clock and have
