

and added his testimony to Dad's advice on the favorability of turning out foundation pigs. Tom had a look at all the stocks and was showing us his pedigrees for his sheep and asking about them. It was about noon when he left. This afternoon I started to rake up the rubbish under the old willow tree. Dad and Frank did chores. Frank walked down to the mill and got a little chop and went down early to tea at Auntie Alice's. It froze hard last night and although sunny it has been a cold windy day.

Sunday April 8th

Frank and I got an early start and went down to Sunday school and then to Church. It being Easter Sunday there was a pretty good-sized congregation and we were rather late getting out. Dad came down as far as Auntie's with the baby I guess he was too late to come to Church and he waited there and went home with Enah. Dick went over with Frank but I stayed down town to dinner. After dinner Aubrey and I had a game of chess and then after Frank had come down again. Gladys, Aubrey, Frank and I went for a walk up the beach. Frank and I came home to tea but went down after wards. Enah went down to Church but we were too late. I went for a walk with Marj after Church and went down to Auntie's for a while before I came home with Enah and Frank.
