April 20th 1871.
 The weather has been somewhat cooler. Some frost last week. Finished sowing spring grain yesterday. Very heavy shower.

June 5. 1871
 Some frost during the month of May doing damage. The latter part of the month and so far in June has been warm enough for harvest. We had a heavy shower today; not quite done planting corn, we are visited this season by the potato bug; have some early potatoes about the size of small hickory nuts. Attended the association at Chatham. July 5th
 Just finished taking clover hay today weather very fine hay good.
