

FRIDAY, JANUARY 14, 1870.

We have been threshing too-day. Finished up with the exception of a few rats which we intend to thresh with the flails. We had an exceedingly cold dinner for our jobs, but it is over now and I am not sorry.

Trust not thyself because of evill doers, neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquity. For they shall soon be cut down like the grass and wither as the green herb. Trust in the Lord and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed. Delight thyself also in the Lord & do good; →

SATURDAY, JANUARY 16, 1870.

It has been raining nearly all day today. We have had one of the most sudden and extreme changes in the weather that I have ever experienced. Yesterday was as cold a day as we have had this winter and to day it has been as warm as summer.

Uncle James and wife came to dinner too-day and with standing the rain and we shall give them the desires of their heart. Commit thy way unto the Lord and he shall bring it to pass.
