Ether—Practical Administration. No. 7.

With body warmly covered the patient lies in the dorsal position, arms at sides, and head as low as conformation of the neck and shoulders permit. In other words the head should be lowered so that the depressor muscles of the lower jaw just lack tenseness, which position must not cause in that particular individual excessive backward tilting of the head.—Dr. J. B. Bogan; N. Y. Med. Journ.

Weather

Temp.

Warmer looked like rain all day. Then started to sprinkle after dinner but hasn't rained much. Mr Youngs was here all day, helping John draw up the better nut tree & draw manure, Grace & Grandie went to school. Mabel ironed & I have been sitting here since dinner. This fore noon we raked up the yard some of it & burned it. Grandie &
