would have to kill about half of them. He paid me for the old hens he got in July and for some eggs so I got a cheque for $3.00, which I thought was so bad. He gave me $1.20 apiece for the hens & 60 cts a doz for the eggs. I went on down town from there and got some chairs that Aunt Ida had promised to Enah and which were at Aunty's. This afternoon Dad and I had to go and fix a piece of fence that had either blown down or been punched down between the gulley & the new seeding on the wheat stubble and the cattle were all on there. We then took the waggon out and piled on all the loose corn stalks we could. Enah went down & the Cornish's for tea to-night and then a Mrs Hazlett

Saturday October 22nd

Dad went down first thing this morning to get Joe shod. I was supposed to go out to Charlie Lamburgh's & thrash at nine o'clock but as Hugh McIver was coming over with the new stove I had to wait and help lift it in. It is a Doherty and looks like a fine one. I then went over to Charlie's and got there just as they were ready to start. We thrashed his red seed about a Leg. out before dinner and started on the alfalfa. Chris came out on his own and took the gang all except Tom, Harvey Evans & me over to John Cranbrings for dinner and Charlie drove out again in the hay rack. We stopped off at home for dinner. We thrashed alfalfa which didn't amount to much and five bags of oilcake this afternoon and finished about five o'clock. I came home and helped Dad milk & had a little tea and went down to the Swain boys supper. May & Lila were there looking after them & assisted by several of the boys. Mrs Cornish & John Dann came in for tea. Mr Cornish & I spoke to the boys and Mr Dann played a little for us but they had to leave early to meet a frost. Manning came down about nine and kept things moving till about half past ten. By that time May was so tired that we went down to Aunty's and stayed all night. They were in bed when we got there but got up to fix our bed. Pickford came over this afternoon and killed a cow for us. Irene was here for tea. I made Arthur stopping mad at me this afternoon by getting into a scuffle with him and telling on him & slapping him. I didn't mean to make him so sore but he swears was [illegible]
